

Results from Living Well Transitions Parent Satisfaction Survey 2010

In November, 2010, Living Well Transitions (LWT) distributed a survey to all current and past parents of LWT clients. The survey was a 10 item questionnaire with 2 demographic items, 5 closed-ended questions, and 3 open-ended response questions. We distributed the survey to 104 unique recipients and received 42 responses with 32 respondents completing all items of the survey. Below are the results we received:

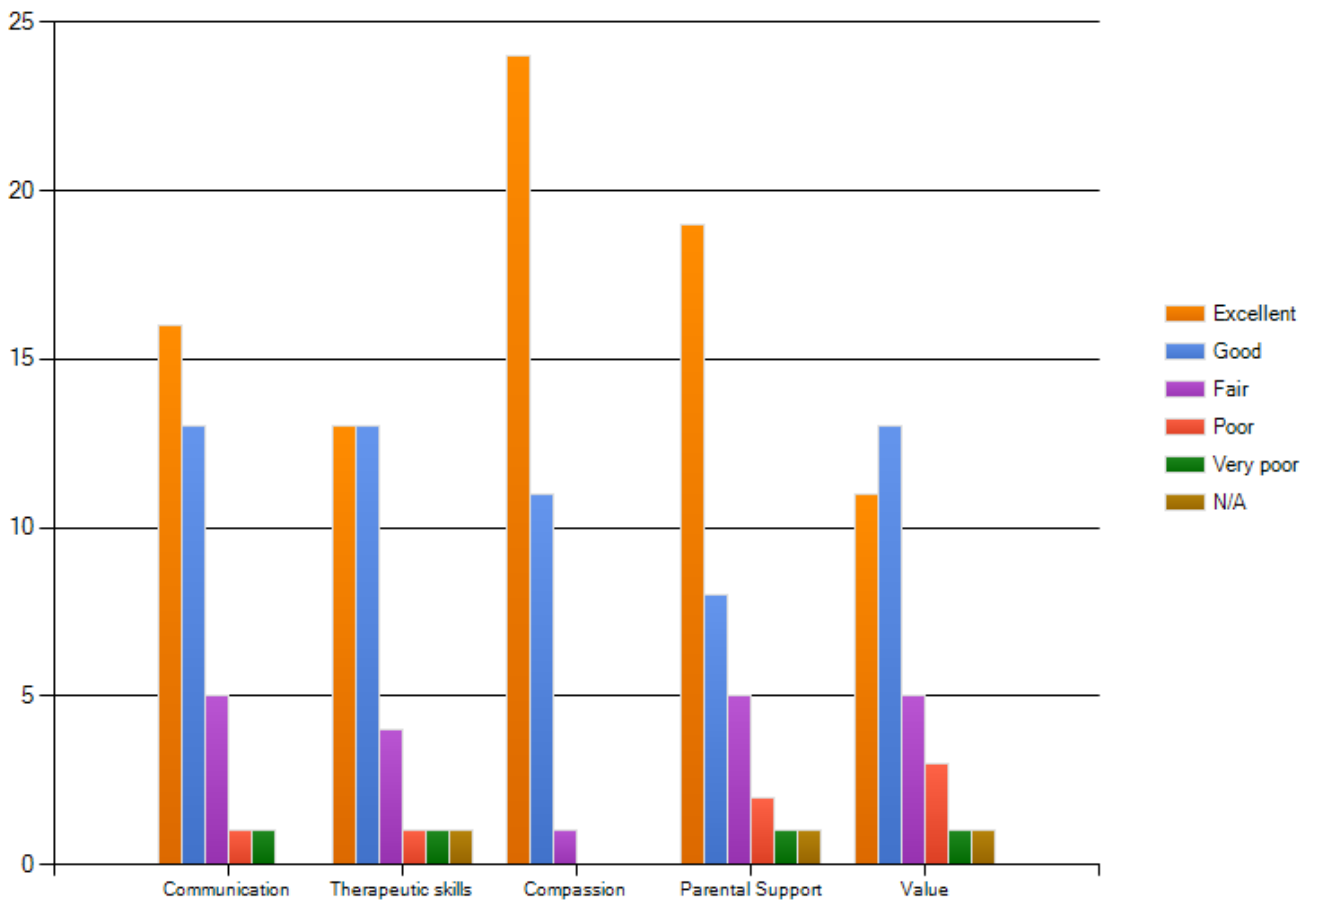

My young adult child was positively impacted by his/her participation in Living Well Transitions.

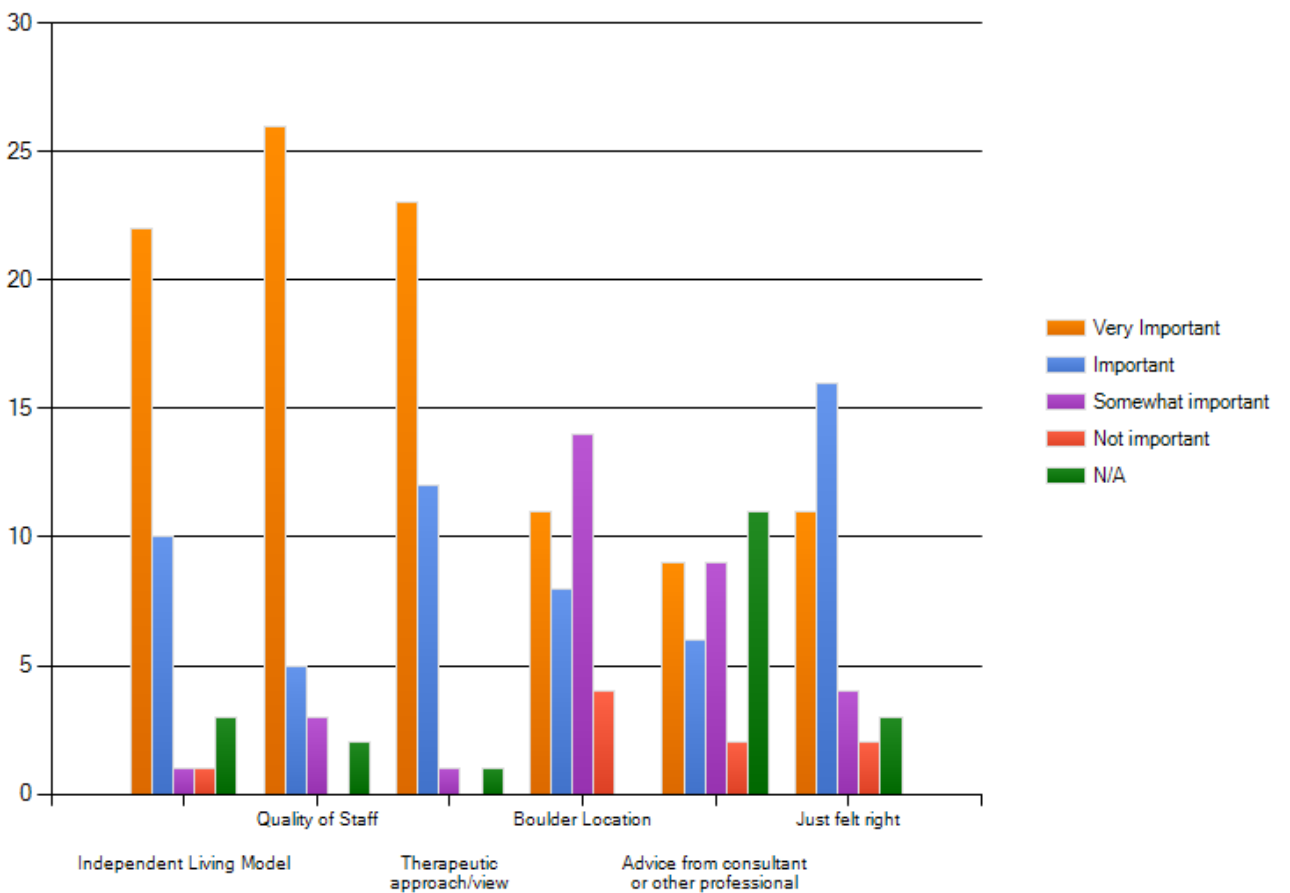

My relationship with my young adult child has improved since beginning our participation with Living Well Transitions.

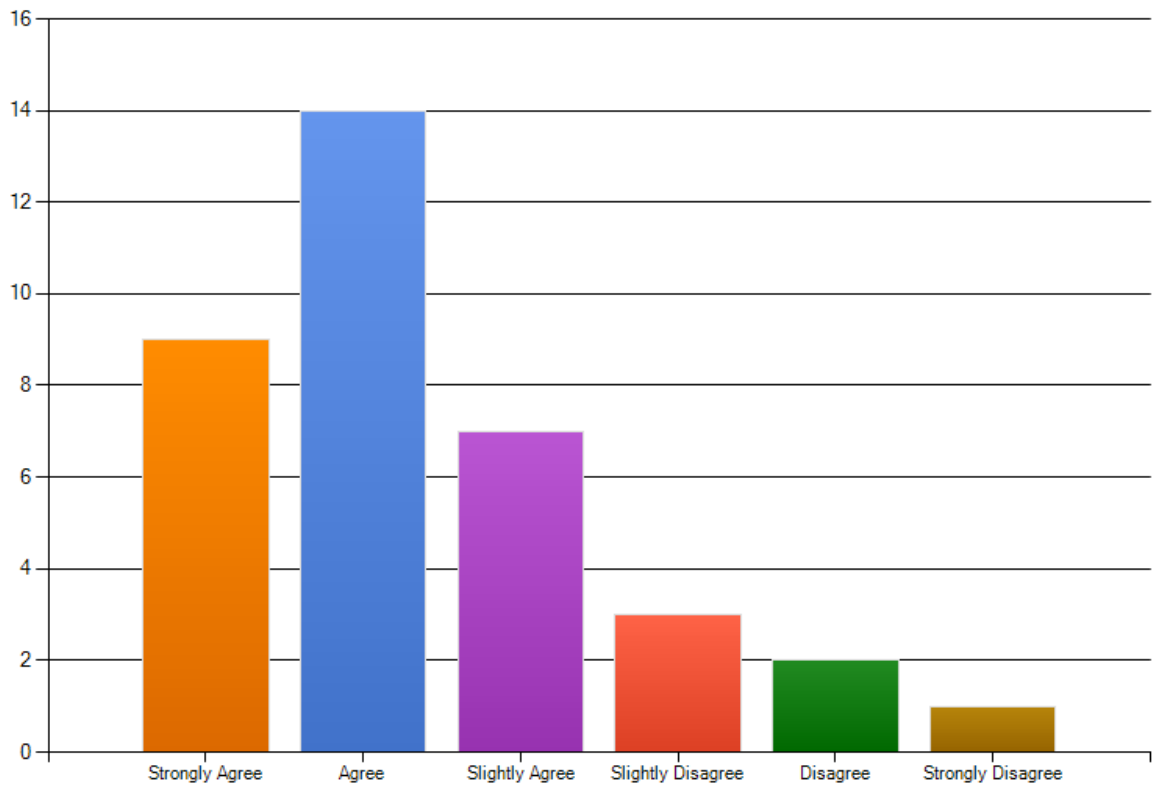

Please rate how Living Well Transitions has performed in the following areas

Please rate how important the following factors were in making your decision to enroll in Living Well Transitions

My young adult child gained valuable skills that he/she is actively applying in the service of creating or maintaining a more healthy and independent lifestyle.

To read excerpts of some of the open-ended responses we received, please visit our Testimonials page.